Memorial

To the House of Representatives and Senate

We, the hop pickers and the laborers of the fruit orchards and gardens, and the tillers of the soil, and the mechanics, and the typewriters, memorialize your honorable body to enact laws such as will compel all the merchants in Salem and vicinity to sell all their wares as cheap as they can be bought at

FRIEDMAN'S

For it is a fact that Friedman sells Clothing, Hats, Trunks and Valises at 30 per cent cheaper than any other house in Salem. Dry Goods, Laces and Embroideries, Neckwear, Handkerchiefs, Sox, Umbrellas, Mackintoshes and Rubber Goods. But we are compelled to go to Friedman's because He sells from 25 to 40 per cent cheaper than the rest.

We would further memorialize your honorable body that you will not give your votes to elect Friedman for U. S. senator as it would leave this community in the hand of monopoly merchants. Hoping you will give this memorial your honest attention, for which we, as citizens of this community, will ever pray.

IN FOUR STATES.

Reports of Conventions of All Shades of Politics.

The Washington republican convention met in Tacoma and, after organization, nominated the following ticket:

Congressman—W. L. Jones, of Yakima, and Francis W. Cushman, of Tacoma.

Judges of the supreme court—Mark Fullerton, of Colfax, and T. J. Anders, of Walla Walla (renominate). The nominations of Jones and Cushman were by acclamation, and the nominations of the supreme judges were made unanimous before the result of the first and only ballot was announced.

The committee on platform presented its report, a synopsis of which is as follows:

"We endorse and approve the administration of the president and his cabinet, and endorse and approve the course of Hon. John L. Wilson, our republican senator in congress. We endorse the conduct of the war throughout, and are now in favor of the retention of all the conquered territory. We favor the existing gold standard and oppose the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

"We recommend to the voters of the state the careful consideration of the proposed constitutional amendment, granting equal suffrage. We favor the construction of the Puget Sound, Gray's Harbor and Columbia canal, and the improvement of the Columbia and Snake rivers, thus uniting all navigable inland seas and rivers in this state with the Pacific ocean."

MONTANA.

The state Democratic, Populist and Silver Republican conventions are in session at Anaconda. In each the chief issue is fusion or no fusion. Only two judges and a clerk of the supreme court and one congressman are to be nominated, but the coming session of the legislature will elect a United States senator to succeed Lee Mantle, and the strife for this office complicates the situation.

The conference committees on fusion were unable to agree, and apparently all hope of fusion is gone. The proposition of the Democrats was first, that the two retiring judges of the supreme court be renominated. The Democrats further proposed that the nomination for clerk of the supreme court should go to the Populists; that the Silver Republicans take a congressman, and that the Populist and Silver Republican conventions pass a resolution agreeing to the election of a Democrat for United States senator. This last met with immediate dissent.

When the Democratic convention met Tuesday night its conference committee reported that it had made the foregoing proposals, and that it had been rejected. The report was promptly accepted and the committee discharged. The convention adjourned till Thursday when it is proposed to nominate a straight ticket.

The Silver Republican convention adjourned in hope of inducing the Democrats to recede from their position regarding the senatorship. The Populist convention is still debating the subject. The Democratic platform, adopted endorses the Chicago platform, but says nothing about territorial expansion.

CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Connecticut assembled at Bridgeport in biennial convention, for the purpose of placing in nomination a state ticket. The committee on resolutions, finding themselves unable to reach an agreement, voted to present to the convention itself two preambles, one reaffirming the Chicago platform the other eliminating each reaffirmation.

ANNUAL CONCLAVE

Grand Commandry of Knights Templar of Oregon

A Splendid Parade and Reception by DeMolay Commandry—Visiting Delegations.

The twelfth annual conclave of the Grand Commandry of Knights Templar of Oregon is in session at Salem. The commandry met here five years ago, but since then the order has grown and the parade today as well as the increased attendance shows this high degree order of Masonry to be in a flourishing condition. No finer appearing body of men ever walked the streets of Salem than that so proudly led by Drillmaster Prelate Gillis today. The procession formed on the sidewalk on south Commercial street preceded by the Salem band marched to the 11 o'clock train. The special corps of drilled Knights numbered 25, and nearly twice as many more fell into the line as the marching body filed past DeMolay asylum. The full dress uniforms of dark blue, with snowy sash and helmet, scarlet belt and old gold gauntlets, with golden chevrons and silver buttons set off the solid body of men who would have done credit to Teddy Roosevelt's rough riders. The Albany, Eugene and Ashland delegations united in greeting the delegations from Portland and the east.

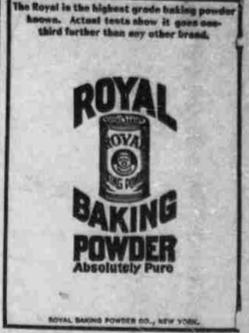

The weather was made perfect by an occasional touch of mist. The showers had rendered Commercial street unpleasantly muddy for marching and all the evolutions of the drill corps took place on State street. The corps of twenty five Sir Knights in full uniform led by the band formed an escort to the delegations that arrived on the 11 o'clock and went to hotel Willamette in the chartered cars, where some made themselves comfortable and others repaired to the asylum of DeMolay commandry, where the grand commandry was called to order at 11:30 by Sir Grand Commander L. C. Marshall. Following is the program of the day.
